We are the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) in northwest London.

All are welcome to turn up without any advance notice at our local meetings for worship.

The Quakers in Northwest London have local meetings in

- Edgware
- Finchley
- Friends House (across from Euston Station)
- Golders Green
- Hampstead
- Muswell Hill

Click on the place name above to find out times and addresses. Most meetings are on Sunday mornings, but there is an additional meeting for worship on Thursday evenings at 6.30pm at Friends House. This meeting finder will help if you are looking for Quaker meetings in other parts of London or elsewhere. The London Quakers website has more about meetings and open events across the capital city.

We also hold a special introductory session for anyone who is interested in finding out about Quakers. It is called Quaker Quest and it is held every Monday evening (except Bank holidays) at 6.30 for 7 until 9pm at Friends House (Euston). There are also other Quaker Quests around Britain listed on the Quaker Quest website.

Many meeting houses have rooms to let which you are welcome to book. Please check the individual meeting pages for information about facilities and contact details. The exception to this is for Friends House at Euston where you should not call the local meeting but the central offices , 020 7663 1094 or email .

All the local meetings listed above meet together as an area meeting every couple of months. More on area meetings including times and dates, contacts and policies.
